WARM WELCOME TO THE GOVERNOR

Petersburgers Turn Out in Great Numbers to Hear Him

HIS RECEPTION WAS AN OVATION

Eloquent, Witty, and, at Times, Dramatic, the Governors Sentiments Were Greeted With
Prolonged
Cheers.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, VA., August 3.—That Governor Montague has a host of friends in Petersburg was abundantly evidenced by the cordial reception approaching the dignity of an ovation given him here tonight, gratifying alike to himself and his warmest supporters.

The Academy of Music was packed by an audience whose enthusiasm at times could hardly be controlled, even the ladies, whose presence graced the occasion, joining in the applause.

Mayor Jones presided, and on the stage acting as vice-presidents were seated many representative citizens.
The Governor was briefly introduced by Mayor Jones, and as on his entrance into the hall was greeted with vociferous and long continued cheering and applause.

While his address on general lines was similar to those delivered at other points in the State, he held the close attention of the audience from the beginning to the close.

Sparkling Speech.

It was a vigorous speech, sparkling with eloquent passages, strong in argument, abounding in happy allusions and sharp satire, aggressive in spirit, bold in criticism, skillful and able in defense.
At times the Governor was dramatic, especially so when, in a decided, breathing, arms and stamping foot that he wore no man's collar, and was the slave of no clique, and when he made his appeal for support to the free, unbiased people of Virginia and not to secret legislative caucuses.

The Governor said this had been a remarkable campaign in many respects.
It has been one of systematic abuse, slander and vilification of himself, and he had received more of this abuse than any Democratic Governor of Virginia ever had. He wanted his audience to know that all the mudslinging in this campaign from the side opposed to him and not from his friends. For the first time the last State Convention of the Democratic Governor of Virginia ever had.

It was feared that if it did so some benefit might ensue to him.

Governor Montague made pleasant reference to the large, decided, breath-
peal for support to the free, unbiased
islative caucuses.

Back to the People.

He argued in favor of the election of United States senators by the people as conducive to greater purity in the Senate. The people should elect them in the government and the free ballot would give them the power to do this.
A man elected to office by monopolists is the servant of monopolists. A man elected by the people is the servant of the people.

He argued in favor of the primary, which gives every man the power of the ballot and makes one man's ballot as good as another. He gave a full history of the struggle to secure the primary and criticized Senator Martin's course in reference thereto. The "Junior" senator had opposed it at the Roanoke convention and said, as he said, it was then proposed to accomplish his defeat. He has since expressed his willingness to test the plan and to submit to its result, but it nowhere appears on record that he favors the plan.

He asked the audience if, when they enter the booths on election day to prepare their ballots, they will strike down the man who has always favored the primary and elect the man who opposed it.

The Governor spoke in advocacy of better schools, of improved highways and of the servants' liability law. He had no fears as to what the people would do.

Martin and Petersburg.

He referred to the claims of what Senator Martin had done for Petersburg in getting appropriations for its river, and declared that Petersburg had done more for him than he had done for the city.
He had been in the Senate for twelve years, and that overbalanced what he had done. In fact, he had done nothing but do his simple duty. The Governor gave a history of the settlement of the offset debt between the United States and Virginia, by which the State saved $5.50. The credit of that settlement was due more to Senator Daniel than to Martin.

A large part of Governor Montague's speech was devoted to criticism of Senator Martin's record, of the history of his first election to the Senate, an unknown and inexperienced man, over such public favorites as General Eppa Hunton and General Fitz Lee. He would not say why this was done, but would ask how it was done.

He paid an eloquent tribute to Hunton and Lee and in connection therewith to the Confederate soldiers.

He concluded his speech by declaring that he was the candidate of no clique or faction and had no office-holders to back him. He appealed to the higher power of the people and a pure ballot, and said if elected he would represent the State in the Senate without fear or favor.

GRAND JURY HAS STRENUOUS DAY

City Hall Jammed With Witnesses Anxious to Testify.

STARTLING RUMOR WAS PUBLISHED

Court Will Hold Somebody Responsible for Leak if Report Proves Correct—Grand Jury Prefers to Have Voters Come As Summoned.

The grand jury put in another strenuous day yesterday, examining nearly or quite 900 voters in the poll being made by the jury. The inquisitors kept hard at it from 10:30 A. M. until about 2 P.
M., reconvened and resumed at 4 P. M., and remained at work until about five minutes to 6 P. M. Then the jury reported to the court its difficulties today, and asked permission to dispense with a second session to-day and tomorrow for the accommodation of jurors who desired to transact important business before the close of banking hours.

The jury also asked Judge Witt to rescind his order permitting any voter from any precinct to appear, be sworn and testify. Foreman Taylor stated that the jurors believed they could expedite matters by taking the voters by precincts and allowing them to testify thus, instead of swearing voters and letting them testify indiscriminately.

The court reminded the jury that they had asked for more work and he had given it to them. The jury admitted this, but expressed a preference to resume the poll by precincts. It was stated that indiscriminate polling imposed much extra work on stenographer Winston, and so much time was lost that better work could be accomplished by the original plan of polling each precinct.

Did Excellent Work.

Notwithstanding the confusion incurred in allowing any voter to depose, the jury did the best day's work yesterday it has yet accomplished, some 750 to 800 voters appearing and giving testimony. It is estimated that more than this number were sworn, but many grew
a more opportune time. When court convened the court room and the entire second floor of the City Hall were literally jammed, so that locomotion by the officers was impeded and almost prevented, and some confusion resulted.
With this large crowd massed in the small court-room and its approaches, the atmosphere became dense and foul because the swarms of voters could be sworn only in the hall, and the jury had to at last the work was accomplished and the congestion there relieved, and transferred to the third floor, where long lines of voters were standing for two hours or more. Most of those in the line accused the situation philosophically, only a few growing peevish or impatient and manifesting it in words or outward expression. It was a case of patience on the part of the voters, and those who were defiant had to acquire it.

The court announced at 2 P. M. yesterday that "stragglers" from other precincts would not be heard to-day, but that the precincts would be taken up in order, as follows: First and Second Henry Ward Precincts. The jury will sit from 10:30 A. M. until 2:30 P. M. without intermission. It is estimated that more than
convened the court room and the entire
vented, and some confusion resulted.

were defiant had to acquire it.

On Saturday, First and Second Monroe and First, Second and Third Madison are scheduled to be heard. This is a good day's work, and it is uncertain that the jury will be able to complete the list in the five hours allotted. On Monday the First Precinct of Clay Ward, the largest in the city, will be called. There are nearly 900 voters in that precinct alone.

If the precincts named shall have been disposed of by adjournment Monday afternoon, Tuesday will be devoted to polling the stragglers, tardy ones and absentees from all precincts. It now appears likely that the poll of voters will have been completed by Tuesday evening.

Foreman Taylor announced yesterday that the jury desired to complete the poll for the convenience of citizens before the adjournment.

LIVED TWO YEARS WITH BROKEN NECK

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Man's Paralyzed Body Gradually Wasted Away—Died Yesterday From Heat.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., August 3.—Carl Otis, aged twenty-six, died to-day after lying fully paralyzed about the neck for two years. His case has furnished physicians and surgeons with a remarkable study, for the man has lived since August 8, 1903, with a broken neck, despite the prophecy of his doctors that he would not live a week. Otis was a robust young man who learned the trade of a coppersmith. In 1903 he went to Newport News, Va., and worked on the cross-hatch shipyard. There, on August 8th, he went in bathing, and in diving into shallow water his neck was broken, the cervical vertebrae being fractured, causing complete and instantaneous paralysis below the point of fracture, which was about on a level with his shoulder blades. He was brought to Rhode Island Hospital. To the very last he retained his mental faculties. He had absolutely no power of movement of limbs or muscles below the point of break. His body gradually wasted away, and the excessive heat two years ago caused him to fall rapidly, death finally taking place from exhaustion.

IN 24 HOURS NEGRO MURDERED 2; SHOT 4

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Wild Man Chased Into River Bottom in Arkansas and Killed.

(By Associated Press.)
LITTLE ROCK, ARK., August 3.—A special to the Gazette from Lewisville, Ark., says:

After killing two persons, seriously and probably fatally shooting two others, one a woman, and less seriously shooting two more, the Kinney negro, was killed in a river bottom at Doelia, six miles south of Lewisville, at noon to-day, after a hot fight with a posse of citizens that had surrounded him. His record of crime for twenty-four hours is:

August 2d (morning), killed a negro at Stamps.

August 2d (afternoon), killed E. R.
Ferguson, claim agent of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railroad, member of a posse, three miles from Stamps.
August 3d (3 A. M.), seriously shot Mrs. Stewart, of Greensburg, Texas, and Mr. Stewart, her husband.
August 3d (noon), shot Alvin Bertram through the neck and shot a Banger off one of C. F. Nash's hands.

MOODY TAKES UP COTTON SCANDAL

Attorney General Returns to Washington and Has Interview With Beach.

GRAND JURY GIVEN RECESS

Delay Necessary to Secure Important Evidence From Distant Points.

WASHINGTON, August 3.—Attorney General Moody was at his desk in the Department of Justice to-day. In speaking of the reasons of his return to Washington at this time, he said that there were several matters of considerable importance which required his presence here.

In answer to a question regarding the cotton leak the Attorney General said that he had been in close touch with the investigation from its origin, but desired a further personal conference with District Attorney Beach, and this he had to-day.

The district attorney said that the grand jury now investigating the cotton leak would take a recess to-day until the 15th.
He explained that the adjournment of the grand jury was in consequence of the fact that additional evidence was expected from distant points which could not be obtained before that time.

There are several other matters of less consequence but still of considerable importance which will claim the attorney general's attention while in Washington.

CRISWELL KILLED BY EXPRESS TRAIN

NEW YORK, August 3.—Robert W.
Criswell, editor of a weekly publication, who was arrested recently on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by Representative Jos. H. Rhinok of the Covington (Ky.) district, was killed to-night by an express train at the Seventy-second Street station of the subway. The libel charge against Criswell grew out of the publication of an article reflecting upon Mr. Rhinok, and censuring Representative Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, for having introduced Miss Alice Roosevelt to the Kentucky Congressmen during the visit of the President's daughter in Cincinnati.

KNOXVILLE INVITES YELLOW FEVER SUSPECTS

KNOXVILLE, TENN., August 3.—By official action of the city board of health, Knoxville has declared itself open to the world and invited all fever refugees, whether suspects or not, to come within its gates. It has been proven in years gone by that yellow fever cannot propagate in this altitude, and should any fever cases develop among those who come in the health board has made arrangements to promptly isolate them.

Ohio Railroad. He was seventy-one mills on the dollar when the matter is ruptcy Remington. The assets will which are claims for attorney's fees and about $14,700 with which to meet $2,000-000 of indebtedness.

Woman Rushed Into Flaming House to Rescue Guest—Both Perished.

HORSE KICKED MAN DOWN

Husband Lay Helpless, While Fire Killed Wife and Destroyed Home.

(By Associated Press.)
WARREN, MASS., August 3.—News of the death by fire of Mrs. Lyman R.
Hawkes and Miss Anna Skipper, a visitor, was received here to-day. The women were burned during a fire which destroyed the Hawkes farmhouse and barn. Mrs.
Hawkes died while trying to save Miss Skipper.

The flames were discovered in the barn by Mr. Hawkes, who, shouting, went into his wife, endeavoring to release a horse. The animal kicked the man, causing injuries which made him helpless for a time. Meanwhile Mrs. Hawkes and the young visitor had seen the flames and began trying to save some of the moveable property in the house. While they were doing this the fire reached the building and the younger woman was cut off from one exit, and Mrs. Hawkes hurried up a second flight of stairs to her rescue.
The husband, though unable to stand, tried to follow, but was forced back by the flames, and before other assistance arrived both women had perished.

Mrs. Hawkes was sixty-eight years of age and Miss Skipper was seventeen.

Negro Tried to Blow Up Steamer

(By Associated Press.)
BALTIMORE, MD., August 3.—Bernard Scott, colored, is held by the police on the remarkable charge of having attempted to cause the explosion of the boiler of the June Mosley, an excursion steamer plying between this city and points on the river and bay. The Mosley had on board to-day between 400 and 500 people, most of them colored excursionists, when the engineer, Robert H. Jones, discovered Scott in the act of removing a portion of the machinery. According to the engineer, the removal of one more screw would have caused the boiler to explode, and a horrible catastrophe would almost certainly have followed. When the excursionists on board learned of Scott's attempts he was with difficulty saved from violence at their hands.

GAMBLERS CHASED AROUND GREAT LAKE

Police of Chicago Have Exciting Struggle With Floating
Pool-Room People.

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, August 3.—Gamblers, intent on playing the races, and policemen determined to prevent all race track betting on Lake Michigan, to-day furnished an exciting struggle. Policemen and gamblers raced around the lake, first into Michigan waters, then close to the shores of Illinois, and then into the jurisdiction of Indiana.

The net result of the day was the capture of fourteen weary marine gamblers, who floated ashore at South Chicago, in a launch. All of the others, after a hot chase by the police in a fire tug, escaped to Indiana Harbor, Ind., and made their way ashore outside of the jurisdiction of the Chicago police.

The gamblers, who returned to Chicago this evening, declared that the wireless apparatus on the City of Traverse refused to work throughout the day, and that a message was received and not a bet was made.

FLEET'S TRIP TO BALTIC SEA

Reported That Emperor William Will Meet King Edward
at Marienbad.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, August 3.—The forthcoming visit of a British fleet to the Baltic Sea appears more than likely to mark the beginning of more cordial relations between Germany and Great Britain. Instead of, as had been suggested in some quarters, adding to the friction now existing.

Ernest George Pretzmann, secretary to the admiralty, to-day, in reply to questions, said definitely that no protests regarding the visit of the fleet had been received.

Friendly comment on the pending cruise from German Baltic ports creates the belief that it will help along King Edward's desire for good relations between Germany and Great Britain, and the announcement of Emperor William's support of the candidacy of Prince Charles, of Denmark, for the Norwegian throne, is accepted as an indication that the German ruler proposes to work in the same direction.

The report is revived that Emperor William will meet King Edward during the latter's forthcoming trip to Marien-bad.

Paris, Hearing That War Party

NEW YORK, August 3.—Acting for the President, Third Assistant Secretary of State Polce to-day communicated to Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, the official programme for the formal presentation to the President of the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries to the Washington conference. This programme has for weeks been a subject of much study on the part of the President and Mr. Polce. Many of the details regarding the journey to Oyster Bay and thence to Portsmouth already have been published.

Desirous of being strictly neutral in all the arrangements for the presentation, it was decided at the outset by the Washington government that the President would recognize no procedure based on successes in the present war. Because Baron Komura was presented at Sag-amore Hill almost a week before the Russian plenipotentiary, it was decided that for this reason Baron Komura must take precedence over Mr. Witte. This, however, will be recognized only in the half-hour's difference in the time of the presentation of the two missions.

The question as to which ship should be assigned to the Russians and which to the Japanese to take them to Portsmouth solved itself. The servants of the Dolphin are Japanese; those on the Mayflower are Chinese.

Witte's Busy Day.

M. Witte had an active day to-day. He has already seen more of New York than most visitors here in a week. Accompanied by Mr. Winkler, Russian financial agent at Washington, he left his hotel at 9 o'clock in an automobile on a ride through Central Park, then to Grant's tomb, where M. Witte insisted on getting out of the car. He went into the mausoleum and remained there for a few minutes. Then he went to the Stock Exchange, and thence to the top of one of the towering downtown buildings to get a bird's-eye view of the city. This quite enchanted him.

"The most magnificent of all!" he exclaimed.

The subway next was visited and a train taken for up-town. "Now," he said, "this is all splendid, but I want to see all of New York; let's go to the East Side."

Back down into Houston Street he went in the automobile, through the Chinese quarter, Russia, and Italian quarters.
Soon after reaching this section of the city M. Witte got out of the automobile and made a considerable part of the trip on foot.

Throughout the afternoon he was receiving callers, but only by appointment.
To-night he dined quietly at his hotel with his suite, and to-morrow he will go to Oyster Bay with Baron Rosen.

To-morrow being St. Mary's Day, according to the eastern Christian calendar and the name day of her majesty Maria Fiodorovna, Empress Dowager of Russia, religious services consisting of high mass at 8 A. M. and Te Deum at 9 A. M. will be celebrated at St. Nicholas Russian Orthodox Cathedral, at which it is understood Mr. Witte, Baron Rosen and their suite will be present.

Sato Hopeful.

Minister Sato, of the Japanese peace commission, expressed himself to-day as hopeful of the result of the peace conference. He said:

"Both commissions having come here, animated with peaceful impulses, I think peace will result as it may be expected both parties will be reasonable in order to secure the blessing of lasting peace in the Orient."
